

Marshall Freeman '06

Marshall Freeman '06 is the Chief Operating Officer for the Atlanta Police Foundation, the nationally renowned non-profit law enforcement advocacy, strategic planning and research organization that supports public safety in Atlanta. He leads a team that manages programs and initiatives designed to prevent and decrease crime, enhance public safety infrastructure, increase police visibility, provide mid-career training to Atlanta Police Department officers, and test and acquire state-of-the-art technology for the south's largest urban police force.

Prior to joining the Atlanta Police Foundation, he had a successful entertainment career including his work as a choreographer, performance coach, creative director and talent manager for musicians. His work includes working with the like of Aretha Franklin, Joan Rivers, The Beach Boys and American Idol winner Candice Glover. He has also produced events and concerts for the NFL, NBA, BET, and the National Urban League.

A native of Detroit, Marshall is a graduate of Johnson & Wales University, where he earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Sports/Entertainment and Event Management. Marshall is a member of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. He is also involved in several civic roles: Crime Stoppers USA, Regional Director; Inspire Brands Foundation, Trustee; Midtown Atlanta Rotary Club, Member and serves on the LGBTQ Advisory Board for the City of Atlanta.